Prominent New Yorker Returns From Visit to Bryan.

HE REVEALS NO SECRETS.

Every One Speculating on the Outcome of Vice Presidency.

SENSATIONAL REPORT CIRCULATED.

It Is Rumored That In Case Sixteen-to-One Declaration Is Omitted, Colonel Bryan Will Fight For It on Floor of Democratic Convention.

Kansas City, July 2.—Since the return of some of the Democratic leaders who went to Lincoln to see Mr. Bryan, a story with decidedly sensational features, has been in circulation. According to the statements of the committee on resolutions reports simply an endorsement of the Chicago platform, without reiterating 16 to 1, Mr. Bryan may come here and on the floor of the convention offer an amendment, and make a speech in favor of his favorite rat. Should the convention fail to act favorably on his amendment it is said, he would be compelled to decline the nomination on the floor of the convention.

Kansas City, July 2.—This really is the first business day of the Democratic convention. Soon after 10 a. m. the Democratic national committee assembled at the Kansas City club to consider the claims of contesting delegations, formally to select temporary officers and transact some other preliminary business; the United States Monetary League at the same hour began its first session at the Auditorium theatre; and at night it is proposed formally to open the new convention hall with a promenade concert.

The day dawned brilliantly, bright and clear, with the thermometer registering in the seventies and a brisk southeast breeze blowing. Within a few hours, as the sun gained ascendancy, it became intensely hot.

The streets and hotel corridors are thronged with strangers, yet scarcely one-tenth of the crowd expected is here however.

The one distinct topic of conversation early in the day was the visit of former Governor Hill to Mr. Bryan at Lincoln. The governor's arrival early on Sunday, followed by his almost instant departure for the home of him who is to be this convention's nominee for the presidency, fairly dazed even the most astute political leaders. The newspapers were scanned eagerly, but in vain for an explanation of Mr. Bryan's call for the New York statesman. The two conferees evidently kept their own counsel. Gossip about the visit is on every tongue, but all is speculative and ephemeral.

While, apparently, nobody here knows why Mr. Hill was summoned to Lincoln, all thoroughly realize that his visit is more than significant. Harmony in the convention for which all the leaders are striving vigorously may depend upon it and it may mean that Senator Hill, after all, will sink his personal desires and become the party's candidate for the vice presidency. Much hinges upon the conference between the two men on the farm near Lincoln.

The Only Contest.

This far the only contest worth mentioning has been on the financial plank of the platform. Even that seems to be only a difference of phraseology. The western men, generally, insist that a specific declaration for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 shall be incorporated in the platform; that from the east and many from the south are inclined to favor a simple reaffirmation of the financial plank of the Chicago platform, believing that issues which overshadow the money question have arisen since 1896 and should be given the place of paramount importance. That Mr. Bryan himself will let it be known finally what his wishes are with respect to the question all fully believe and that his desires will be carried out nobody doubts.

With respect to the planks on "imperialism" and expansion, a note in a minor key has been sounded from the western part of the country, especially from the Pacific coast. Both Mr. Bryan and the leaders of the party in Kansas City have been urged not to make the anti-expansion plank too strong, lest the declaration injure the party's chances in the western states, where, it is understood expansion is strongly favored.

Everything relating to the vice presidential nomination is in the air. All seem to be waiting for something to turn up. Mr. Shively of Indiana insists that he is not a candidate and it appears likely now that the convention will accept him at his word. Governor Hill is the foremost figure in the problem. That he would accept the nomination if the party should demand him, there is no doubt, but his friends consistently maintain that he is not in the race. Towne of Minnesota would be a powerful candidate if he had not been nominated already by the Populists. Opposition to him has developed on the ground that this convention should nominate a straightout Democrat, rather than a Silver Republican or a Populist.

Sulzer's Candidacy.

Mr. Sulzer of New York one of the few avowed candidates, staunchly backed by strong friends is making things hum about his headquarters in the Savoy. He has some delegates pledged to him and claims that in the round up, he will receive the support of his own state and that of most of the eastern and southern delegates.

It is perfectly clear that the convention will ultimately bow to the wishes of Mr. Bryan. The vice presidential situation may resolve itself into one similar to that in the Philadelphia convention, the candidate being assured of a nomination before a ballot is taken.

Monetary League.

Kansas City July 2.—The United States Monetary League began its session at the Auditorium. Meeting was the first of a two days' session of the league. Hon. Charles I. Thompson of Denver, president of the league, called the meeting to order and introduced Hon. Edward H. Stiles of Kansas City as chairman, who read the call of the league. Mr. Stiles followed with a brief speech in which he said that after 20 years of affiliation with the Republican party he was now ready to hand in adhesion to the Democratic party. He charged that the Republican party had violated its promises on financial questions. He said the Republican party had now taken the place of Spain in the Philippines and was shooting down the patriots of the Philippines. On motion of Mr. "Coin" Harvey, a committee was appointed to appear and report to the league a declaration of principles.

Towne Managers Confident.

Kansas City, July 2.—The Towne managers are very emphatic that their man will win the vice presidential sweepstakes. They have reached a point where they offer the Democrats certain terms and insist upon being heard. Meanwhile Mr. Sulzer is making a showy canvass and talks with the utmost confidence with any man or the friends of any man in the race. "Why," he said, "they can't stop me. They are coming to me so fast that I can't keep track of them. I have pledges from 267 delegates outside of New York and New York ready to come to me as soon as my strength is shown. All over the city are placed signs and lithographs bearing the words 'Bryan and Sulzer and victory' and the headquarters at the Savoy are labelled 'Bryan-Sulzer headquarters.' Neither Mr. Croker, nor ex-Senator Murphy are saying a word.

Chicago, July 2.—A bold attempt by two masked men to loot the safe in the office of the Gilbe Laundry company was frustrated by an accident that may prove fatal to one of the marauders. In exploding dynamite to shatter the lock of the inner door of the safe, one of the men has his right hand torn away and his arm shattered, while the other thief was struck in the face by a flying fragment of steel. The injured men fled, leaving gagged and bound on the floor three men employed by the company whom they had surprised sleeping in the room adjoining the office on the second floor.

SEARCHING FOR DEAD.

Divers Hunt For Corpses In Submerged Hulks of Steamers.

AWFUL SACRIFICE OF HUMAN LIVES.

Forty Bodies Have Been Recovered and the Number of Victims Is Estimated at Two Hundred—Thrilling Stories.

New York, July 2.—About 2:30 p. m. a diver on the Saale reported that he had discovered eight on that ship. One of these men was on the main deck and the head and feet had been burned to a crisp. The seven other bodies were found in the gangway leading from the steerage.

New York, July 2.—The partially submerged hulks of the huge North German Lloyd steamers, Saale, Bremen and Main, lie smoking in the upper bay and North river apparently as thoroughly wrecked as the Spanish cruisers that ventured out of Santiago harbor two years ago.

The remains of the huge North German Lloyd pliers in Hoboken are still burning and firemen are throwing water upon the embers, but nothing remains to be saved. Charred logs, sections of planking, some half burned scows and lighters and other wreckage are drifting about the upper and lower bays, compelling steamers to pick their way with caution, to save their screws and paddles. The fire started in some cotton on the piers on Saturday afternoon.

It is not yet possible to state accurately the number of the dead, but the first reports of the fire, which represented the steamers and the pliers as containing many visitors and prospective passengers, are not borne out by investigation and it seems likely that nearly all of the victims of the disaster were employed in some capacity by the steamship company. However, the loss of life is appalling. Forty bodies have been recovered, hundreds are missing, and no estimate of the number of dead now falls below 200. Of many of the dead no trace will ever be found, their bodies having been reduced to ashes. Nearly all of the members of the crews had their homes in Germany, and news of the disaster will carry sorrow to many a fireside in the Fatherland. No missing, except those employed about the steamers, have been reported to the police or to the company.

Most of the estimates of the loss do not fall below $10,000,000.

Along with the stories of heroic rescue come others of greed and disregard of human life.

John Luth, a painter, employed in decorating the first cabin of the Saale, was alarmed by the cry of fire and rushed from the cabin to the deck, just in time to see a great sheet of flame sweep over the forward part of the vessel and envelop Captain Mirow, who was standing between the bridge and the fore hatch, giving orders to a panic-stricken group of laborers to batten the hatch down. The fire wrapped around him and in an instant he was crumpled into a shapeless mass, falling where he stood.

"At that," says Luth, "half a dozen tugs, blowing their whistles, steamed up toward the Kaiser Wilhelm, which was lying on the opposite side of the dock. Sixty men followed me in a leap to a lighter, and we began shouting for help to the tugs that were coming up to help the Kaiser Wilhelm. Those tugboat men were too greedy for money to help us. One of them came up close and threw out a new Manila line. It fell short and was hauled aboard again. 'Cast the line over,' I yelled. The fire from the Main was then pouring over our heads and the heat was something fearful. 'Give us a hand here,' another man shouted after me. 'For God's sake, don't let us die like a lot of rats.'

"A tug coming coming up the river saw us and gave us a tow to a point below Hoboken, where all hands got ashore."

General James A. Dumont, supervising inspector of steam vessels said that his department would take immediate action in the case of the officers of the tug boats who are said to have declined to save the drowning men.

Before the guard was placed about the Bremen Sunday thieves clambered aboard and looted the staterooms.

The North German Lloyd steamship company notified Coroner Hoffmann of Hoboken, to see that all of the unidentified and unclaimed dead have respectable burial at the expense of the company. Accordingly, Coroner Hoffmann is making arrangements to have all the bodies in the New York morgue taken to Hoboken.

RESERVOIR GIVES AWAY.

Millions of Gallons of Water Let Loose at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 2.—The big reservoir of the city water system located in an elevated hilly district in the northern part of this city, burst at 5 a. m. More than 100,000,000 gallons of water were let loose and rushed down through the valley adjacent, flooding an area peopled by about 9,000 persons. Many dwellings were washed away, and others damaged, and all those within a distance three blocks square were either wholly or partly filled with sand. They were mostly homes of working men. The tracks of the Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee railroad, short distance north of the reservoir, were undermined and the trains on that road were obliged to make a detour via other roads.

The break was first seen by Durt Botsford, a boy delivering morning newspapers. It was then only a tiny stream, but realizing the danger the boy aroused hundreds from sleep and urged them to escape. Some streets were torn up to a depth of 40 feet.

Mrs. Cooper of Clancy street was literally swept out of her house by the flood. She was carried to the bottom of the hill and buried to her neck in sand. She was rescued alive, but will probably die. No other fatalities or serious injuries were reported. Rough estimates place the damage at $200,000.

Cox's Resignation.

Cleveland, July 2.—Chairman Hanna received the letter written by George B. Cox of Cincinnati, containing the latter's resignation as member of the national committee. Mr. Hanna stated that he did not know as yet whether he had the authority to receive Mr. Cox's resignation, but had no doubt it would be accepted. Further than this, the chairman declined to discuss the matter. It seems quite probable that General Charles F. Dick will be chosen to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Cox. General Dick was here in conference with Senator Hanna.

Newspaper Plant Burned.

Detroit, July 2.—Fire gutted the building occupied by the Detroit Journal and destroyed the mechanical, business and editorial outfit of the paper, with the exception of the presses, which sustained only water damage. The total loss is placed at about $75,000.

SLAIN IN THE STREET.

Official Report of the Murder of the German Minister.

FOREIGNERS ARE SHORT OF FOOD.

Admiral Kempff Announces That Ministers at Peking Are Besieged and Several Legations Are Destroyed.

Washington, June 2.—Cable advices from Admiral Kempff fully confirm previous reports of the murder of Baron von Ketteler, the German minister at Peking. The admiral also represents the situation of the ministers as most desperate. The shortage of their food supplies reported by Admiral Kempff gives rise to the gravest apprehension. Having been brought to Taku by runner, this dispatch represented the ministers' condition at least five days ago, and there is reason to fear that the worst has happened in the interim.

Admiral Kempff's favorable report of the condition of the Oregon is believed by Secretary Long to be based upon the report of the commander of the Japanese vessel which generously offered assistance.

No further reinforcements have been ordered to China, military or naval.

Official News of Von Ketteler's Death.

Berlin, July 2.—Privy Councillor Hamann stated that the official dispatch announcing Baron von Ketteler's assassination was received here. It was based upon a written message from Peking signed by Von Bergen, a member of the German legation at Peking and Sir Robert Hart, the inspector general of customs. It was addressed to the commander of the European forces at Tien Tsin and was forwarded June 29 by the German consul at Chefoo. The message contained a number of interesting details. Baron von Ketteler while riding on horseback to the Taung Li Yamen (foreign office) was attacked by a large number of Chinese who pulled him off his horse and beat him to death. An interpreter who was with him was seriously injured, but escaped and subsequently reached the German legation.

Agreement Not Ratified.

Washington, July 2.—After 48 hours' consideration and possibly after consulting the president at Canton by wire the cabinet officers here, have decided not to ratify the agreement of nine articles providing for the neutralization of Shanghai and the southern Chinese treaty ports submitted by Minister Wu. There were some things in the agreement which the government felt it could not accept. Such for instance, was the abolition proposed to be extended the Chinese government in advance for any outrages that might occur in the treaty ports. The government has, however, no objection to the principle embodied in the arrangement and has therefore told Consul General Goodnow by cable that he might pledge the United States government to commit no act of hostility so long as the viceroy of the province is able to keep the peace and will protect foreigners. This determination has been made known to the other powers.

Cablegram From Kempff.

Washington, July 2.—The navy department has received the following cablegram from Admiral Kempff without date: "Runner from Peking reports legations are besieged; provisions exhausted, situation desperate. German minister going to Tsung Li Yamen murdered by Chinese soldiers. American, Italian, Dutch legation burned. Twenty thousand Chinese soldiers inside; thirty thousand outside Peking; 3,000 reported beyond Tien Tsin. Still fighting at Tien Tsin. Communication Tien Tsin by rail and river insecure."

Forced to Return.

San Francisco, July 2.—The transport Grant, which was forced to return to port by the ripping open of the steam pipe which feeds her star board engine, will probably again start for Nagasaki. While the bursting of the steam pipe was not attended by any serious consequences, the officers of the boat consider it fortunate that the accident did not happen after she had reached the open sea and heavy weather, as she would have been utterly disabled and unable to make a return trip of any great distance.

Date of Murder.

Berlin, July 2.—A telegram from Dr. Lenz, the German consul at Chefoo says: "Our minister at Peking was murdered June 18th."

Tueson, A. T., July 2.—William Stiles, train robber and fugitive, has been arrested at Casa Grande, near the home of his mother. He was taken, by surprise and was powerless to resist.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Mitchell Chapel was granted permission to give an ice cream supper at January Park, Fifth ward, Saturday evening, July 21st. James H. Hall, J. Ed. Parker and Jos. H. Dodson were unanimously elected a Board of Health for next three years.

A petition signed by about 100 business men of the city was presented by Attorney Thos. D. Slattery asking that a committee of two be appointed to confer with the officials of the C. and O. and make amicable arrangements, if possible, to have the accommodation and mail trains stop regularly between Market and Wall streets as heretofore. Judge Wall addressed Council on the subject. The resolution was amended so that the committee should consist of three, the Mayor to be a member of it. It was then adopted, and the Mayor appointed Messrs. Beasley and Walther to act with him on said committee. Mr. Slattery said the friendliest relations had always existed between our business men and the C. and O. and he thought the matter could be adjusted satisfactorily to all. Our business men, however, felt they had some rights in the matter. The stopping of trains between Market and Wall was a great convenience and accommodation, and they felt the company should readily grant their request. It was stated that the company derived an income of $100,000 a year from Maysville. Judge Wall felt certain that satisfactory arrangements could be easily made. The committee is to report at next meeting. A statement of the cost of Chester street was read. The net amount is $245.37, about $135 less than the lowest bid, showing that Council had acted wisely in having the Internal Improvement Committee do the work. The rules were suspended and an ordinance regulating the working of city prisoners on the streets, &c., was passed. An officer elected by Council shall have charge of them and keep a daily record of the number at work and their time, and shall report these facts daily to the Mayor. This officer is to receive $1.50 a day for his services, and is to be elected annually in January hereafter. John Sapp and Timothy Desmond were nominated for said position. The vote stood Desmond 6, Sapp 5, and Mr. Desmond was declared elected until next January. The City Assessor was allowed his salary.

Clerk Daulton reported the tax receipts for this year amounted to—
Colored.....$ 899 17
White.....$ 26,579 82
Total.....$27,478 99

The white taxes in the Sixth ward amount to $2,625 63, and the colored $172.86. The Clerk was directed to turn the receipts over to the City Treasurer and Collector.

A complaint as to the cattle pens in the Sixth ward was referred to the Propositions and Grievance Committee.

The fire companies were allowed their usual salaries.

A motion was adopted that the judgment recently obtained against Policeman Wallace by Darins Moran in the Circuit Court be paid by the city. The judgment is for $50 and costs. The Mayor and Chief of Police both stated that they sent Mr. Wallace to arrest Moran at the time in question. In making the arrest the officer used some force and was sued for damages with above result.

Policeman Rosser was allowed his full salary for month of May, and was also allowed amount he had paid for a special officer to serve in his place during his absence for a few days in Louisville.

Seven emergency bonds each for $500 were ordered sold to provide funds for current expenses.
